Below is the revised comment. I also attached the comment revised Rtc as well. I think you should be able to open this one.

Alan,

I was unable to open the document (something about encoding).

Any chance you could cut and paste the comment and response into an email?

Stephen and Allison,

Attached is my proposed language change to Stephen's comment on page 34. I tried to change it to be more "affirmative" but the more I changed the deeper I got. I think this captures the essence of the comment and provides an appropriate response for it as well. Please let me know what you think.
